

I'm Back (Did You Miss Me?) (2005)

I'm back, did you miss me?
I've got many tales to tell
I'm back, please believe me
I swear I'm here to stay now

Mad circuses of joy
Caught me in their deadly snare
With pocketknife and cunning I escaped
Just to hear the deadly sirens
From the taverns by the bay
Where the ships with precious cargo came to trade
Their treasures for my voice

So I ran again singing
To the cities of the plain
Beside the silver desert
With its castles made of rain
Stolen from the places where it used to go

With dynamite in hand
I blasted down those walls
Just to find there's nothing there
But empty dusty halls
And all the princes had fled
And the jewels lay scattered
And I knew
It was time to go home

Now I'm back
Did you miss me?
I've got many tales to tell
Yes, I'm back
Please believe me
I swear I'm here to stay now
